

HAVE YOU FILED FOR YOUR EXEMPTIONS?

Once you have closed on your home, the State of Texas allows you to file for your homestead exemption, provided it is your primary residence (and other applicable exemptions). Below is a list of area counties and the contact information for them. You should be able to go to the county website, search by address, and find your property. There is generally a link to applicable exemption forms and/or the forms to be able to download.
